The requirement outlined below, as specified on this purchase order and subsequent amendments, forms in integral part of the purchase order between Horstman Canada Inc. and the seller. The requirement shall remain in force for the duration of this purchase order only, unless deviation is authorized in writing by Horstman Canada.

13 Qualified Products List

- 13.1 Seller supplying products such as primers, enamels, oil, welding rod, batteries, switches, etc. direct to Horstman Canada are responsible to furnish these products as listed on the applicable Qualified Products List (QPL) or have been approved for inclusion on such list. They must substantiate the qualification by listing the product, the name of the manufacturer, the QPL number, revision and date of the applicable QPL. If there is a shelf life for the product, the expiration date must be noted on the certification (Certificate of Conformance) and the product. This QPL information must be noted on the certification for QPL products shipped to Horstman Canada. Results of tests shall be maintained by the seller for a minimum of ten years.

Note: If testing of a sample of each batch by a government test centre is required by the specification, a copy of the approved certification from the test centre must be attached to the seller's certification.

- 13.2 Seller accomplishing final surface finishing operations such as painting or who install component parts or assemblies using QPL products as outlined above, must substantiate the qualification by listing the product, the name of the manufacturer, the QPL number, revision, and date of the applicable QPL on the certification (Certificate of Conformance) for component parts or assemblies shipped to Horstman Canada. If there is a shelf life for the product, it must be noted on the certification and the product.

Note: If testing of a sample of each batch by a Government test centre is required by the specification, a copy of the approved certification from the test centre must be attached to the seller's certification.
